HOLOCOM[®] ANNOUNCES EXPANDED PDS SOLUTION SET

(Fort Huachuca, AZ – October 2, 2012) Holocom, the leader in protective distribution systems (PDS) for SIPRNet and other classified networks, today announced it has expanded its product offering to meet the increasing diversification of PDS requirements for the DoD, other agencies, and companies needing to secure their network infrastructure against physical intrusion. Holocom made the announcement at the 30th Annual AFCEA C4IST Conference at Fort Huachuca, AZ.

"Holocom is the only manufacturer that offers customers a single source for all integrated SIPRNET Protective Distribution System (PDS) solutions," said Scott Beeson, Holocom president. "Our expanded solution offering meets the need for customer site and security requirements and conforms to the specifications outlined in NSTISSI 7003 and the individual service branch documents."

With its expanded offering, Holocom becomes the only manufacturer to offer all three PDS solutions approved for classified network security.

Holocom PDS solutions now include:

- Hardened Carrier (de facto standard Holocom PDS)
- Holocom PDS plus Holocom Alarmed Carrier
- Holocom Alarmed Carrier with Interlocking Armored Fiber Cable

Jay Anaya, Holocom vice president technical services, added "I am pleased to be able to offer our customers any PDS solution that meets their unique requirements. Customers have long recognized us for our hardened carrier expertise. With the alarmed carrier options as part of our offering, customers can continue to rely on us as their PDS source. We will continue to provide all PDS design services, including a complete list of materials and labor estimate at no charge to the customer. This ensures that our customers will receive the full realization of efficiency and cost savings."
